In Her Kitchen: Stories And Recipes From Grandmas Around The World

Synopsis

Winner of the James Beard Award for Photography— In a keepsake volume, Gabriele Galimberti's beautiful portraits of grandmothers from all over the world with their signature recipes illustrates the universal language of food and family. On the eve of a photography trip around the world, Gabriele Galimberti sat down to dinner with his grandmother Marisa. As she had done so many times before, she prepared his favorite ravioli. The care with which she prepared this meal, and the pride she took in her dish, led Gabriele to seek out grandmothers and their signature dishes in the sixty countries he visited. These vibrant and intimate profiles and photographs pay homage to grandmothers and their cooking everywhere. From a Swedish housewife and her homemade lox and vegetables to a Zambian villager and her Roasted Spiced Chicken, this collection features a global palate: included are hand-stuffed empanadas from Argentina, twice-fried pork and vegetables from China, slow-roasted ratatouille from France, and a decadent toffee trifle from the United States. In Her Kitchen is an evocative, loving portrait of these cherished family members and the ways they return that affection--no matter where in the world you sit down for dinner.

Perfect gift for my mom.

Galimberti, while couch-surfing around the world, met local grandmothers, then photographed each with the ingredients to her favorite recipe. I loved the photographs, the recipes and descriptions of the women. I bought this as a gift for a new grandmother, but will order another for myself.

This is a beautiful book for your kitchen or coffee table. It has great stories from loving grandmothers across the world that show their love through cooking. I have not made any of the recipes in this book, but I love to sit and look at the beautiful women and their stories.

The beautiful pictures and recipes in this book make the reader appreciate modern conveniences. I was inspired to create a family cookbook after seeing the women and kitchens around the world.

I like this book and the information supplied along with the recipes. My ESL students also loved looking through this.

The pictures are absolutely beautiful!

Loved the book and the quick service bought another for a friend!
