Customer Reviews

After reading this book, I've come to a conclusion that this book is not written (or atleast the idea is not researched) in a single draft or in a short span of time. This is a work of years, I believe. And, it pays off, fully! This book is beautifully indexed with various aspects of human life (major habits which define a human being) and the author takes on all the aspects individually and in detail. Every topic in this book has been linked with either Quran (Word of Allah (SWT)) or Hadith (Life & Teachings of Prophet Muhammad (PBUH)) and that is the beauty of it. People say Islam is very difficult to apply in modern times. Is it? No. You just need to do it the right way. Try it and you'll be happier than you ever were. The writing is crisp, clear and to the point; nothing more or nothing less. The editing of this book is such that you can read the complete book in a single go, though you'll have to re-read it to analyze the points and apply it to your life on day to day basis. This is not just a guide to Islamic lifestyle, it's more of a self-help book and occasionally motivational as it helps us realize what our real purpose is or what our ultimate goal should be. It's a must have book for every household. Use this as a textbook to learn, teach it to yourself and to your family, also, extend it to the world. Get it (without a second thought), read it & apply it. Make your life better. Content: 10/10 Writing: 10/10 Print
