Paula Ford-Martin is an award-winning health writer and diabetes patient advocate. Her seven-year tenure as a senior story editor and executive producer on CNBC's dLifeTV--the first and longest-running primetime diabetes television show--garnered her twenty-six Telly Awards and an Emmy nomination. She is also the author of several health books, including The Everything Health Guide to Diabetes and The Everything Pregnancy Book, 3rd Edition. Ms. Ford-Martin has a master's degree in writing from DePaul University and is a member of the American Medical Writers Association (AMWA) and the American Diabetes Association (ADA). She lives in Old Saybrook, Connecticut, with her husband and four children. Jason Baker, MD, is currently an attending endocrinologist and assistant professor of medicine at Cornell Medical College. He completed an internal medicine residency at New York University and a fellowship in diabetes, endocrinology, and metabolism at Albert Einstein College of Medicine/Montefiore Medical Center. Dr. Baker is involved in numerous global diabetes projects in Uganda, India, Qatar, and Haiti. He also serves as a contributing author to The Medical Letter and a contributing editor to dLife.com, a website devoted to living with diabetes.

Very helpful and informative, without being too overwhelming. There's SO much information - and misinformation - out there about Diabetes management, and this is one of the better books I've found. I'm also working closely with a clinical dietitian, and the things I'm learning from her are in this book.

Arrived promptly, in good condition and it is a very easy guide to Type 2 Diabetes. I was diagnosed over 3 years ago, but this still had a lot of information that I wasn't aware of even though I am signed up on several Diabetic websites. Very insightful and doesn't require being plugged into the internet to view.

Great book, words can not describe how good this book is. Helped me so much. Makes me cry, thinking how it has helped me.

Very informative and well written.

Very good for non medical people

Bought for my mum. She said the book was too intense. It scared her about living with diabetes.

My wife gave this recently to a friend of hers who was diagnosed with Type2 Diabetes. It very helpful to her friend and helped her in knowing more about and what to do with this very challenging situation.

Extremely helpful book. It filled in the information gaps my doctor didn't have time to tell me. Written in language that non - medical people can understand.
