Stephen Johnston, has been narrating and producing television, radio and audio Bible products since 1981. In the past three decades, over 100 million cassettes, CDs and DVDs of his narrations and productions have been sold worldwide. Awards for his narrations include the Emmy, New York Film Critics Award, the Thomas Jefferson Award from the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, the National Silver Microphone Award, and the Army Commendation Medal for work in the American Forces Radio and Television Service while in Army.

Good points:1) No drama, just a man speaking the Word of God2) Sturdy case to hold all those CDs3) Low cost in comparison to other CDs4) Clear pronunciation5) No defects in any of the CDs6) Both the Old and New Testaments on CDs7) If you lose or damage a CD, you can get a replacement for a modest shipping charge.Bad point:There are introductions to each book, and these introductions are not the Word of God. Unfortunately, those introductions (as with any Bible commentary) will influence your understanding in a negative way if you listen to them. When a book of the Bible begins, I press the "move to the next track" button on my CD player in order to avoid listening to the introduction. I recommend you do the same.If you Google the narrator's name (Stephen Johnston), then you should be able to find some audio samples, so you can listen to him before you purchase this item. I did.I listen to these CDs while driving, and sometimes at home. What a blessing. Praise God."Seek ye the LORD while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near:" (Isaiah 55:6)Visit my wish list to see my favorite

CDs/MP3s:<http://www..com/gp/registry/wishlist/10PLVJREX4CJW/UPDATE>I no longer use the NASB. I switched back to the King James Version (KJV) Bible, which I had used previously. KJV audio/mp3 is available free online (you can download the mp3's to your mobile device; or download them to your PC and burn CDs). I burned the mp3's to CDs for my car; only 1 CD for the New Testament, and 4 CDs for the Old Testament. To download free KJV audio/mp3 files: click on my profile name, click on my website on the left side, click on "Links", look for "King James Version (KJV)", then click on "Audio MP3". If you don't like that recording, then you can search the web for other free KJV audio/mp3.

Voice took a little getting use to. I think the last one I had was Charleston Heston. see if you can listen to a test track.

This is a great audio bible! My husband wanted one to listen to on the way to work everyday (this was before iphones and apps). It is easy to listen to and saved his spot when he turned off the vehicle. If you're looking for a great audio version of the bible to listen to. This is it!
