Donald M. Silver and Patricia J. Wynne have collaborated on several successful Scholastic Teaching Resources books, including The Body Book, Interactive 3-D Maps: American History, and the Easy Make & Learn Projects series. They both live in New York City.

Engaging and informative. My students had a lot of fun with this and were excited about the final product. I used 11X17 paper to make the copies so it would be easier for my students to manage.

I love the material inside the book; however, I didn't realize the entire book is black and white on the inside - the colorful cover of the book is deceiving - not what I was expecting.

You must copy the pages in the book. Projects came out very cute.

Great book, and will fit right into our learning this year with home school. Reproducible!!

Wonderful book for our homeschooling studies.

This is going to be a great addition to the curriculum that is used where I teach. It gives many ideas and great things to help the children learn new things and review things they already know.

This book rocks for hands-on "crafty-stuff" for mid to upper elementary! We are loving it!

I have been very impressed by this resource. I love how it is not complicated. You can simply pick a topic/habitat, copy and go. Can use alone or as a supplement. Excellent in my opinion. I have a boy and a girl, ages 8 and 9 and both enjoy.
