this is the 3rd living language course I've ordered- I speak Spanish fluently and ordered the Spanish version for my parents. I was really pleased with it, so I recommend it to everyone. I ordered the French version for myself and have been super pleased with it also- I have learned a lot, even just using the course on my own. so I thought I would give the Korean version a shot since that language really interests me a lot. I saw it was coming out and preordered it. got it as soon as it was released- arrived quickly. the price was great as always for such an extensive course. I could not be happier!!! the extra book on learning to read and write hangul is something most other courses don't give you- I finished it fairly quickly and have been amazed at how quickly I've learned to "read" hangul. I watch a lot of Korean tv shows (with English subtitles) but I have surprised myself now because I can now read the Korean subtitles that come up (I don't understand the meanings of the words yet but I am able to read the Korean with correct pronunciation) I think it gives you a really good basis- like a child learning to read, learning to write, sounds words out, etc. I have now moved on to the first lesson book and am learning quickly. perfect for the price- the series are always in depth, yet simple to understand. very happy and would recommend this to others. p.s. I'm an ESL teacher so have experience with language teaching and find the living language method very good. it really works for me, as I'm a visual person and the reading and writing is what allows the language to "sink in" for me. the CDs are also great too and are good for people who learn better by listening.

I've made the best choice when I decided to order this mini course. It has everything you can think of. CDs with conversations from the book you should listen to, exercises, vocabulary and a notebook for you to practice the alphabet on for example. I wish however, there were more exercises here and there to improve yourself in grammar. I'm missing this a little in this course.

There are exercises for each lesson of course, but to me I don't think they're enough. I like to practice until I am 100% sure I know it from top to bottom. If you get everything from 3-4 exercises and don't need more, then this is perfect for you. Sometimes I just like to do more exercises, for the fun of it or to get better at that particular topic. In any case, I totally recommend this if you want to learn Korean. It's thorough and extensive.

If you are a self-learner like me this is the kind of method you need to learn a new language. Korean is a language that with this course you will be able to learn easily, once you master Hangul (the method includes it) you will enjoy every lesson.

I am very happy I purchased this course. It comes with cd's, grammar book, 3 different level books, and even a free book just for your notes. I suggest learning the symbols/sounds first because it is much easier than you think. If you are like me, you need to go very slowly because a lot is repeating and memorizing. Just don't give up :)

It helps. It gets the job done. Don't count on the romanization because some of them are wrong. Some of the answers are wrong too... but it's rare. I'm only reading the first book but that is what I've found so far. Also, like any other language text book. The language can be strange if you use it with a native. For example: there was a lesson teaching about online magazines and it said webjin and my Korean teacher told me that was weird. It's worth it though. Just be open minded to variety.

I enjoy learning languages and this is the first language I have tried learning on my own (meaning not in a classroom) from the beginning. I already knew the Korean alphabet from YouTube videos (Professor Oh to be exact). This has been awesome for learning the language! I use the CDs for my drives to and from work, and read the book and do the activities at home. I am more than halfway through the beginner book and I am surprised how much I remember what I have learned, considering I have taken a few several-week long breaks, I don't have anyone to practice with verbally, and my memory in general isn't fantastic. The website activities reinforce the book activities well also. I will be sticking with Living Language for this and whatever language I get interested in next!

We are using this textbook for my Korean course in college and it is very easy to follow and has everything you need for beginners.

I really love this set! I actually feel like I've learned a lot by going through the materials in 1 week then I would in a class! The reading/writing book really helped me read better. I knew the alphabet already but I was having issues memorizing the vowels and writing Korean. After a week it's MUCH easier! Plus, I watch a lot of dramas and variety TV shows. One thing I will say, is that there are some errors in their book. Someone who's just starting probably would not notice the errors. That's why I took off a star...
