

The book was found

The Revolution Will Not Be Funded: Beyond The Non-Profit Industrial Complex

Synopsis

A trillion-dollar industry, the US's non-profit sector is one of the world's largest economies. From art museums and university hospitals to think tanks and church charities, over 1.5 million organizations of staggering diversity share the tax-exempt 501(c)(3) designation, if little else. Many social justice organizations have joined this world, often blunting political goals to satisfy government and foundation mandates. But even as funding shrinks, many activists often find it difficult to imagine movement-building outside the non-profit model. The Revolution Will Not Be Funded gathers essays by radical activists, educators, and non-profit staff from around the globe who critically rethink the long-term consequences of what they call the "non-profit industrial complex." Drawing on their own experiences, the contributors track the history of non-profits and provide strategies to transform and work outside them. Urgent and visionary, The Revolution Will Not Be Funded presents a biting critique of the quietly devastating role the non-profit industrial complex plays in managing dissent. Contributors: Christine E. Ahn, Robert L. Allen, Alisa Bierria, Nicole Burrowes, Communities Against Rape and Abuse (CARA), William Cordery, Morgan Cousins, Ruth Wilson Gilmore, Stephanie Guilloud, Adjoa FlorÃancia Jones de Almeida, Tiffany Lethabo King, Paul Kivel, Soniya Munshi, Ewuare Osayande, Amara H. PÃrez, Project South: Institute for the Elimination of Poverty and Genocide, Dylan RodrÃguez, Paula X. Rojas, Ana Clarissa Rojas Durazo, Sisters in Action for Power, Andrea Smith, Eric Tang, Madonna Thunder Hawk, Ije Ude, Craig Willse

Book Information

Paperback: 272 pages

Publisher: Duke University Press Books; Reprint edition (February 3, 2017)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0822369001

ISBN-13: 978-0822369004

Product Dimensions: 6 x 0.6 x 9 inches

Shipping Weight: 1.2 pounds (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 4.6 out of 5 stars 17 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #85,608 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #62 in Books > Business & Money > Small Business & Entrepreneurship > Nonprofit Organizations & Charities #69 in Books > Politics & Social Sciences > Politics & Government > Elections & Political Process > Political Advocacy #78 in Books > Politics & Social Sciences > Politics & Government >

Customer Reviews

"The Revolution Will Not Be Funded gives us valuable insight into what these activists call 'the non-profit industrial complex,' an unseen web of money and power that tries to undermine people's struggles for racial, class, economic, gender, and environmental justice. It deserves the closest study." (Mumia Abu-Jamal)"This collection presents a context for the questions that have been troubling us about non-profit structures. In years to come, we will mark it as the jump-start for our new thinking about ways to make collective social change." (Suzanne Pharr, author of In the Time of the Right: Reflections on Liberation)"A stinging indictment of what the authors call the 'non-profit industrial complex,'" (Elisabeth PrÃfÂ gl Signs)"The Revolution Will Not Be Funded is a must-read for all of us who are living in the U.S., the crossroads of empire and global capitalism. Seriously addressing the questions and critiques raised by this collection will help today's U.S.-based justice movements make sense of our responsibilitiesÃ¢â and envision creative opportunitiesÃ¢â to help map a transformative future for liberation." (Joo-Hyun Kang, member, CAAAV Organizing Asian Communities)"Fiery" (Utne Reader)"Powerfully demonstrate[s] what we too often forget: our attempts at securing safety for ourselves and our communities are subject to much more powerful attempts by the state and society to make itself safeÃ¢â including to make itself safe from us and our most radical, challenging, revolutionary, feminist ideas." (Ruthann Robson Women's Studies Quarterly)"Although The Revolution Will Not Be Funded presents no easy answers for those of us struggling both to make a living and to create social change, it exhorts us to put the consideration of our movements' missions, and the way we fulfill them, before considerations of organizational and job securityÃ¢â and to regularly revisit within our organizations the question of whether the form and the content of our work are essentially compatible." (Christy Thornton NACLA Report on the Americas)"Are non-profit organizations sufficiently accountable and responsive to the larger aims of popular social movements, or is the 'non-profit industrial complex' thwarting the potential for fundamental social change? The Revolution Will Not Be Funded provides a variety of critical perspectives that challenge the conventional foundation model and non-profit system approach to popular organizing in capitalist America. Sure to be a provocative book for activists working for social justice." (Daniel Faber, editor of Foundations for Social Change)

INCITE! is a national activist organization of radical feminists of color advancing a movement to end all forms of violence against women, gender non-conforming, and trans people of color through direct action, critical dialogue, and grassroots organizing.

I've been involved in the nonprofit world for some years, and this book cuts right to the heart of all that is wrong with that world, while providing possible alternatives at the same time. This book also, through its format of essays from people who are involved in the work, goes beyond purely pontificating and directly into practical applications of the ideas they present. Buy this book for yourself, buy it for any friends you have.

A must read for those of us seeking alternatives to the foundation-funded approach toward making social change. Understanding how neoliberal ideas have become so deeply embedded into almost all aspects of society, The Revolution Will Not Be Funded offers exciting insights into alternative paths for true social justice.

Should be required reading for all US citizens. Critical examinations and effective strategies offered by those who are at work in our communities.

Very usefulQ

Just the article "Fundraising Is Not a Dirty Word" was well worth the price of the book.

Very eye-opening.

Edited volumes are always a mixed bag, and this one is no exception. It is unusual in that there is a clear trajectory in the quality. The first two essays are academic mumbo jumbo, classic examples of a distinct style of pseudo-critical posturing in which militarizing one's vocabulary (they intervene in discourses! they interrogate concepts!) passes as actually doing something. This kind of opaque writing moves through a series of clichés (hiss at patriarchy, denounce capitalism) without nary a thought for evidence but quite certain of its profundity. This is more offensive and embarrassing here in that these writers, who have guaranteed lifetime employment (tenure), criticize people for their participation in the hustle for grants, as if the people who have to do it are unaware of the problems. That's breathtaking in a genre that prides itself on being self-reflexive. After that, however, the essays steadily improve, with the degree of insight varying inversely to the author's connection to academia and maybe half to two-third should be required reading for people who work in nonprofits. The biggest criticism I have of even the best essays is that they don't offer much on alternatives. Detailed descriptions of the daily life of US grassroots organizing before the rise of nonprofits would have been especially helpful. Several quite interesting essays use grassroots organizing in the Americas south of the US border as a model of engaging people with nonprofit organizations, but even they don't give a sense of what that would mean in this country. A group in New York City that became a 501(c)(3) and then returned to being all volunteer receives a lot of attention for seemingly successfully doing just that. The different perspectives on that group do not, however, give a clear sense of what people do for money. There's just an acknowledgment that it's tougher to participate if you have a family and a comment to the effect that they 'lost some people along the way.' All of this just begs for answers to the questions of what happened to the paid staff and how participants now balance (or don't) their engagement with childcare and other family responsibilities. Odd for an explicitly feminist work. Another criticism that could be made is that the essays have surprisingly little to say about the structure of 501(c)(3) status--the role of boards, the limits on lobbying, etc. These characteristics are alluded to but never faced squarely, which seems to be quite an oversight given the purpose and themes of this book.

Every hippie should read this

Download to continue reading...

The Revolution Will Not Be Funded: Beyond the Non-Profit Industrial Complex Wiley Not-for-Profit GAAP 2014: Interpretation and Application of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (Wiley Not-For-Profit GAAP: Interpretation ... of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles) Growing Mushrooms for Profit: The Definitive Step-By-Step Guide to Growing Mushrooms at Home for Profit (Growing Mushrooms for Profit, Growing Mushrooms ... Mushrooms, Growing Oyster Mushrooms) Evaluation of Industrial Disability: Prepared by the Committee of the California Medical Association and Industrial Accident Commission of the State ... of Joint Measures in Industrial Injury Cases. How Goats Can Fight Poverty: Complex problems do not always need complex solutions Non-equilibrium Thermodynamics and the Production of Entropy: Life, Earth, and Beyond (Understanding Complex Systems) Hot pictures book (6) of sexy non nude not uncensored girl photography from Europe in non adult photo album with sexy girl posing in erotic photography Hot Asian pictures book (6) of sexy non nude not uncensored girl photography from Asia in non adult photo album with sexy girl posing in erotic photography Hot Asian pictures book (4) of sexy non nude not uncensored girl photography from Asia in non adult photo album with sexy girl posing in erotic photography Hot pictures book (4) of sexy non nude not uncensored girl photography from Europe in non adult photo album with sexy girl posing in erotic photography The Arena: Inside the Tailgating, Ticket-Scalping, Mascot-Racing, Dubiously Funded, and Possibly Haunted Monuments of American Sport The Crowdsourceress: Get Smart, Get Funded, and Kickstart Your Next Big Idea The Customer-Funded Business: Start, Finance, or Grow Your Company with Your Customers' Cash Funded: The Exact Steps, Strategies, and Tools to Crowdfund Your Book The Ultimate Guide to Small Business Alternative Finance 2017: How to get your business funded with a P2P loan Writing Science: How to Write Papers That Get Cited and Proposals That Get Funded The Passive Voice and Reported Speech: Your grammar torch to shed light on passive voice, reported speech, complex subject, complex object and cleft (Brookgarbolt's treasure Book 2) Making Things Work: Solving Complex Problems in a Complex World Transgender Lives: Complex Stories, Complex Voices Profit Maximization: 5 Unique Ways to Increase Your Revenue, Decrease Your Costs, and Maximize Your Profit in 30 Days or Less!

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help